

NUMBER 8
SUMMER 1995

FEATURES

6 Goin' Down the Road: The Making and Unmaking of a Canadian Classic

25 years on, Goin' Down the Road revisited

BY GEOFF PEVERE

14 Rockin' on the Road: The Films of Bruce McDonald

Canada's "outlaw filmmaker" tackles a controversial story about growing up Native in Northern Ontario

BY MARC GLASSMAN

20 Roads Not Taken, Avenues Not Explored: Confessions of an Unconscious Canonizer

Why certain movies are "canonized," while many more have been screened and abandoned

BY PETER HARCOURT

GUILTY PLEASURES

28 Babes in Boyland: An Irreverent Peek at Women in Canadian Cinema

An appreciation of something not often discussed by polite Canadians

BY GERALD PEARY

32 Home Ice: A Comparative Guide to Hockey Movies, Theirs and Ours

Even in hockey movies, Canadians still lose

BY STEPHEN COLE

POINTS OF VIEW

36 Asleep at the Wheel

A journalist from the trenches of the mainstream media has noticed a major shift in Canadian culture and why the cultural establishment has not

BY CRAIG MACINNIS

42 Jésus de Montréal and the Culture of Nihilism

A reevaluation of what may well be a future Canadian classic

BY KEVIN MCMAHON

COLUMNS

2 Letters

In response to John Harkness's "Three Modest Proposals for the Canadian Film Industry"

5 Editorial

BY GEOFF PEVERE

44 Books

BY DOUGLAS FETHERLING

47 Shorts

BY TOM MCSORLEY

49 Industry

BY JANE PERDUE

52 Tribute to Phillip Borsos

BY PETER O'BRIAN

COVER: Michael Greyeyes and Lisa LaCroix in Dance Me Outside. Photograph by Michael Vendrusculo, courtesy of Shadow Shows
LEFT: from Dance Me Outside: The Illustrated Screenplay, adapted to the page by Nick Craine